AS OF RECENT

Hello friends and family! People keep asking me "what's happening next!?" hence the name "What's Hueppening"

God working

God continues to teach me his faithfulness and compassion through how he provides and takes care of me each step of the way. He's been answering prayers and being so kind to me, a wretched sinner. I'm learning more and more about Jesus' Character as I've been studying the book of John with one of my close friends here in Michigan. I keep getting more and more excited about serving Him in Utah! There has been multiple times this month where I have been very uncertain about what is happening next and God has really just worked things out. I tend to worry about things before trusting God with them. I am seeking to be more intentional in my daily life to recognize when I'm not trusting him and surrender it to him before I have the chance to worry.

The trip I was planning to go on with OneWay Evangelical Ministries was cancelled due to health complications that the missionaries are having. So please be in prayer for them! But with that having been cancelled I have another week to be home and work a little more. And prepare more before moving to Utah.

Me working

I have been blessed to be working while at home in Michigan the last several weeks! I've gotten to help rake hay (the picture above), power wash, paint, and help with all the farm things. I've also had some time to work other odd jobs around the area and earn some money before heading out.

Time well spent

I have also had so much fun being able to catch up with friends, family and reconnect with so many people. I also have had a few opportunities to paint with my mom this summer which has been super sweet! (photo on the top right) I am so blessed to have so many people in my life who encourage me, pray for me, love me, and challenge me to grow in my relationship with Christ. It is going to be hard to leave all of them on this side of the country but I know that God's plan is always so much better than anything I can plan.

The plan/next big thing

I will be leaving MI July 16th and arriving in Utah on the 21st or 22nd. I have a place to stay the first 6-8 weeks but still haven't found long term housing or a job yet. Please continue to pray about those things! I am so excited to join them in their ministry! The week after I get there we will be doing a VBS. The Church I'm interning at is called Aspen Grove Bible Church, they are located in Spanish Fork Utah. A ways south of Salt Lake City but not at the bottom of Utah. I will be "Tentmaking" for the Internship, so I will be working part time and have been raising support for the other half of my income. This way there will be more time for ministry and more connection in the community. At the Church, I'll get to help out with: Ladies ministries, Worship Music, Youth group, Event Planning, College outreach, and really anything they need me for! I'm wanting to learn, to share God's word and show God's love. To proclaim Christ and the gospel of the Bible in a place where that doesn't often happen.

HOW TO BE INVOLVED

I am not close to my goal yet of support raising. I am still looking for prayer partners and people wanting to get involved. Please pray about possibly supporting this ministry!

Please contact me if you have any questions, Or if you would like to get involved in supporting me, or if you just want to chat I'd love to share more about what God is doing!
